... All-rounder for the world of work. Tunnel vision is a thing of the past
You will receive a broad computer science education that covers all future topics - from artificial intelligence to IT security. In addition, you will acquire skills in the areas of teamwork, eloquence, argumentation & Co.
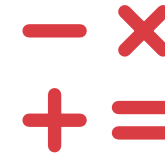

... world-changing
You will be equipped with the latest knowledge from computer science research and always have its relation to society in mind.

Here you are...

... groundbreaking
Whether it's networking or cryptography, voice assistants or data protection - our variety of electives allows you to focus on where your interests lie.

... brave when it comes to math
You will be picked up where you are and learn exactly the math you need as a computer scientist.